Drawings

The drawings are objected to because reference numeral 42 is not shown in figure 2B as disclosed. Reference numeral 48 is not shown in figure 2B as disclosed. Reference numeral 144 is not shown in figures 8A-C as disclosed. Reference numeral 174 is not shown in figure 10 as disclosed. Reference characters "156,158,160" has been used to designate both circular cuts (Figure 9B) and a device having elongated wire with barbs (Figures 10-13). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In paragraph 0073, "Fig. 6" should be "figures 6A-B". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

Claims 1-3 is objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 1, line 12, "ultrasonic injury" should be "ultrasonic stimulus". Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-18 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-19 of U.S. Patent No. 6,748,258.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the patented claims and the pending claims include a method of treating a patient at risk of loss of cardiac function by cardiac ischemia including imaging the heart to identify (i) an underperfused region of cardiac muscle, (ii) a source of oxygenated blood that is proximate a boundary of the underperfused region, and (iii) a target area that includes said underperfused-region boundary and a tissue expanse lying between said oxygenated blood supply and said boundary, at each of a plurality of sites throughout the target area, introducing a stimulus effective to stimulate angiogenesis in myocardial tissue and form a capillary network from the source of oxygenated blood to the underperfused region, and sustaining a demand for oxygen at the underperfused region for a period sufficient to convert the capillary network into an arterial network. Applicant discloses that it is well known in the art to use various forms of stimuli, such as laser, mechanical and growth factors to stimulate angiogenesis in the heart. Therefore, the use of any of these known stimuli in the method would have been obvious to one skilled in the art. With respect to pending claim 4, the source of oxygenated blood would have been obvious to one skilled in the art based upon known physiology and its known proximity to a possible target area. With respect to pending claim 5, the selected underperfused region would have been an obvious selection of known possible areas of such in the heart.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
